

About Mickey Guyton

Mickey Guyton is a four-time GRAMMY-nominated artist and country music trailblazer. Over the course of her career, Mickey has been recognized for her musical achievements, including being named TIME Magazine's Breakthrough Artist of the Year in 2022 and CMT's Breakout Artist of the Year in 2021.

With her debut studio album, Remember Her Name, Mickey made history as the first Black artist to earn a GRAMMY nomination for Best Country Album. Additionally, she became the first-ever Black female solo artist to earn a nod in a country category with additional nominations for "Best Country Song" and "Best Country Solo Performance."

Beyond the GRAMMYS, Mickey has shined on the grandest of global stages, delivering powerful renditions of the national anthem at Super Bowl LVI and the 2023 World Series. She has also performed on a wide array of star-studded award shows and platforms, including the ACM Awards, CMA Awards, CMT Music Awards, ESPYs, CBS Mornings, Good Morning America, The Today Show, The Jennifer Hudson Show, The Kelly Clarkson Show, SHERRI, The Tonight Show Starring Jimmy Fallon, The Late Show with Stephen Colbert, Sesame Street, and many more.

The multihyphenate has also evolved into a media personality, having co-hosted the Macy's 4th of July Fireworks special on NBC, the 2023 National Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony on CBS and co-hosted the 56th Academy of Country Music Awards on CBS along with Keith Urban. She also previously served as a guest host of The Ellen Show.

Most recently, Mickey has released a series of new songs, including "Woman," "Scary Love," and "Make It Me."
